Company Environment Policy

Laboratory Analysis Ltd was incorporated on 2nd November 1987 to sell laboratory equipment and chemicals in the South West region and Channel Islands from our Head Office in Exeter.

The company has a policy of recycling all packaging materials. We do not purchase additional boxes or filling material, many suppliers now supply products in recyclable organic packaging.

Empty Merck Glass and plastic bottles are recycled by Merck at their recycling plant. Bottles must be returned to our driver thoroughly cleaned or purged. All returned packaging is subject to mandatory legal regulations and relevant documentation must be completed.

Containers not cleaned will be considered as "special waste" under the Control of Pollution Act and its amendments, and we are unable to collect items not special waste.

Any BDH/Merck chemical containers that Laboratory Analysis Ltd return to Merck will be treated ready for recycling, either by returning to the factory for re-use or for use as a recycle.

Laboratory Analysis Ltd are registered carriers of waste licensed with Devon County Council.
